Departure Is Marked Contrast to Nasty Demonstration of First Voyage: Harbor Deserted Because of Strike

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 5.—President Wilson sailed today on his second voyage to France, determined to "come back till it's over, over there," as he said in his letter to the nation last night. The president's departure was marked with a simplicity which contrasted with the noisy demonstration given him when the George Washington carried Mr. Wilson from America to Europe on his first journey last December.

Today there was only a small crowd of persons assembled at the army transport pier. To these the president, in his hand and Mrs. Wilson, waved farewell greetings as the George Washington swung out into the lower Hudson river, while the band on the transport Great Northern, berthed nearby, played the Star Spangled Banner.

Harbor Nearly Deserted

Standing on the bridge the president and his wife saw the Stars and Stripes raised on the staff at the stern and heard the booming of the presidential salute of 21 guns. As the transport turned her nose toward the statue of liberty, an escort of destroyers got underway ahead. The harbor was nearly deserted because of the strike of marine workers.

The president and Mrs. Wilson had ascended to the bridge soon after 8 o'clock. Mr. Wilson had been up and about the decks for nearly two hours, having been the first of the presidential party to appear. Most of the others were sleeping when the transport sailed.

Rush Back From Newspapers

Just as the George Washington was about to sail, it was discovered that some one had neglected to bring aboard the morning papers. The lines had been made fast to the gang plank which was about to be lowered, when the papers were ordered, rushing across the plank onto the pier and hurried through the flag decorated archway to the news stand. A few minutes later the vessel's departure.

These newspapers contained the text of the speeches of the president and former President Taft, in support of the league of nations, and the Metro-politan opera house last night.

They also told of the activities of the president on the eve of his departure.

Sleep Was Brief

It was a few minutes before midnight when Mr. Wilson arrived in Hoboken and it was early morning before he reached his stateroom, so that his sleep was only brief.

The president arrived at the Metropolitan opera house at 8:15 o'clock last night. After Mr. Taft and he had spoken, the president asserting that "an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations," Mr. Wilson called on the delegation of Irish Americans, whom he discussed the aspirations of Ireland at the peace conference.

New York, Tuesday, March 4.—President Wilson, speaking tonight at the Metropolitan opera house, was cheered for three minutes, while the band played "I Won't Come Back Till It's Over Over There," as he rose to speak.

"My fellow citizens," he said, "I accept the intimation of the air still playing over there."

The first thing that I am going to tell you people on the other side of the water is that an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations. I have had unmistakable intimations of it from all parts of the country, and the voice rings true in every case.

Our nation is fortunate to speak here under the unusual circumstances of this evening. I am happy to associate myself with Mr. Taft in this great cause.

No Party Dare Oppose

"And I am the more happy because this means that this is not a party issue. No party has the right to appropriate this issue."

"I do not know when I have been more impressed than by the conference of the commission set up by the conference of peace to draw up a covenant for the league of nations."

COCIVERA ON TRIAL

State Argues He Murdered Wilfully, Not in Self-Defense—Death Charge Soon After Shots Were Fired.

These men will decide CARMELO COCIVERA'S FATE

Harry Handy, Janesville, E. B. Clemons, Janesville, Edward Hull, Milton, John Montague, Milton, David Poe, Beloit, Chas. Walter Evansville, C. H. Spencer, Evansville, C. P. Snodgrass, Plymouth, C. O. Onsgard, Plymouth, G. J. Schaffer, Plymouth, Ed. Blevins, Johnston.

That Gaetano Cordia, Italian collier, murdered in Beloit on the night of February 2, was possibly a member of the Black Hand organization there and was generally considered as a dangerous man was brought out in testimony in circuit court today at the opening of the trial of Carmelo Cocivera, charged with killing the collier. Detective Dan Torrisi of the Beloit police force testified Cocivera had complained to him that Cordia had threatened to "get" him and that he apparently lived in fear of the collier.

In examining the state's witnesses today, District Atty. S. G. Dunwiddie, assisted by C. D. Rosa, attempted to bring out the fact that Cocivera had shot at Cordia in self defense and that he did not shoot in self defense as the defendant claims.

Jury Chosen Yesterday

Remainable progress was made in the selection of a jury when the case was called at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. At four o'clock the twelve men had been chosen and testimony was begun.

Dell Green, policeman, who was the first official on the scene after the tragedy, was the first witness called by the state. He testified that he was on Race street, just passing Jim Dilorenzo's store, in front of which the murder occurred, when he heard three shots fired.

Carmelo Cocivera's wife is sitting next him in the court room. The widow and children of the dead shoemaker, garbed in mourning, are spectators in the front row of the gallery. Over 20 Italians from Beloit and several local citizens listened to the testimony today.

Adjournment was taken at five o'clock and Officer Green was placed on the stand again this morning when the case was resumed at ten o'clock. He testified that Cocivera's gun, arrested him, and took him into the store where he called for the patrol, keeping the accused man covered. He testified that a knife was taken from Cocivera, and that he was accused of being paid to murder Cordia. No one touched the body until Detective Dan Torrisi and Chief Officer Green arrived, as far as he knew, he said.

Dan Torrisi told what he knew of the tragedy. He said he saw no one touch the body except Chief of Quailman, a police officer, and a son-in-law of the dead man. He said Cocivera feared the Black Hand leader who had demanded money from him at one time.

Victim Hit Four Times

The character of the four wounds in the neck and head of the collier was described in expert testimony furnished by Dr. E. B. Brown and Dr. J. H. Bole. Beloit physicians who attended the body after it had been taken to the undertaking rooms. One bullet entered the head just below the left ear, another passed through his forehead, grazed his scalp, while the one which probably caused the man's death entered his neck, shutting off his blood supply.

Rolph, San Francisco, Criticizes Speakers For Not Offering Solution To Unemployment Problem.

Washington, March 5.—Dissatisfaction of western delegates over failure of the conference of governors and mayors to take definite action toward relieving unemployment, which had been in session since yesterday, terminated today in a row during which Secretary Houston left the hall.

Mayor Rolph, San Francisco, who criticized the conference yesterday, stated the trouble by submitting a resolution which demanded that President Wilson immediately reconvene congress and in his message demand passage of important legislation which failed with the adjournment yesterday.

"With all due respect to the gentleman who have addressed us," Mayor Rolph said, "I have not told us how we are to get out of this unemployment. We have traveled 3,000 miles not to hear that every American ought to own a home or that good roads ought to be built, but to hear how the poor American here begging on the streets of New York is going to get a job. Most of the trouble with labor situation is right here in Washington and we want to know what's going to be done."

Mr. Rolph's resolution condemned the building of American ships in Japan and China and demanded that those contracts be cancelled and replaced with some of the contracts recently cancelled by the shipping board in this country. The resolution also advocated collective bargaining as a means of lessening labor unrest.

Mayor Baker, Portland, Ore., declared the western delegates were much dissatisfied with the proceedings of the conference and wanted something done. It was at this point that Secretary Houston departed.

Motion to abandon the afternoon program as a report from the resolutions committee finally was made. It was amended to permit an address by Secretary Lane in the afternoon. One delegate said he knew of no one who was going home because they were dissatisfied with the deliberations.

Proposals to form a national conference on massive unemployment will be considered at a meeting tonight.

COMPANY M QUITS RHINE FOR COAST

JANESVILLE SOLDIERS HAVE LEFT GERMANY ON FIRST LEG OF RETURN TRIP TO THEIR HOMES HERE.

Company M is coming home. The unit has already left Germany for the coast where it will start the voyage across the Atlantic which will eventually bring them back to Janesville and their homes.

Word has been received by Judge Harry L. Maxfield from Private Max Plantiko, the effect that the members of Company M left Raubach, Germany, on March 1 for the coast. They expect to be back in the United States by the last of the present month.

Private Plantiko states in his letter that there are only 20 members of Company M left and that they are exceedingly anxious to get back to their homes now that their work is finished.

According to the word received by Judge Maxfield the boys left Raubach, sailing down the Rhine to Rotterdam, from where they are heading for France and then the United States and home.

"Company M is coming home!" That sentence alone is enough to stir the hearts of all Janesville soldiers of them, and after fighting for several months, in all of the big battles of the war they are going to return to Janesville and again take their positions in civilian life.

No mention was made by Private Plantiko relative to who was in command of the company or what Janesville boys were to return.

Company M has been in France for over a year and during that period the men have made a name for themselves that will go down in history. It was Company M that went into one of the fiercest battles the American soldiers engaged in in France. They fought in practically every big battle of the war and were in the line the day the armistice was signed.

Private Plantiko tells in his letter of the wonderful work accomplished by the Janesville boys overseas and also tells of the feeling of the German people toward the American soldiers.

He states that regardless of the feeling in Germany the German people have a lot of respect for the Janesville boys and they are helping in whatever in handling the Germans.

Company M has been in the army of occupation since its organization and has been stationed at Raubach, Germany for the past two months.

Departure Is Marked Contrast to Nasty Demonstration of First Voyage: Harbor Deserted Because of Strike

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 5.—President Wilson sailed today on his second voyage to France, determined to "come back till it's over, over there," as he said in his letter to the nation last night. The president's departure was marked with a simplicity which contrasted with the noisy demonstration given him when the George Washington carried Mr. Wilson from America to Europe on his first journey last December.

Today there was only a small crowd of persons assembled at the army transport pier. To these the president, in his hand and Mrs. Wilson, waved farewell greetings as the George Washington swung out into the lower Hudson river, while the band on the transport Great Northern, berthed nearby, played the Star Spangled Banner.

Standing on the bridge the president and his wife saw the Stars and Stripes raised on the staff at the stern and heard the booming of the presidential salute of 21 guns. As the transport turned her nose toward the statue of liberty, an escort of destroyers got underway ahead. The harbor was nearly deserted because of the strike of marine workers.

The president and Mrs. Wilson had ascended to the bridge soon after 8 o'clock. Mr. Wilson had been up and about the decks for nearly two hours, having been the first of the presidential party to appear. Most of the others were sleeping when the transport sailed.

Rush Back From Newspapers

Just as the George Washington was about to sail, it was discovered that some one had neglected to bring aboard the morning papers. The lines had been made fast to the gang plank which was about to be lowered, when the papers were ordered, rushing across the plank onto the pier and hurried through the flag decorated archway to the news stand. A few minutes later the vessel's departure.

These newspapers contained the text of the speeches of the president and former President Taft, in support of the league of nations, and the Metro-politan opera house last night.

They also told of the activities of the president on the eve of his departure.

Sleep Was Brief

It was a few minutes before midnight when Mr. Wilson arrived in Hoboken and it was early morning before he reached his stateroom, so that his sleep was only brief.

The president arrived at the Metropolitan opera house at 8:15 o'clock last night. After Mr. Taft and he had spoken, the president asserting that "an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations," Mr. Wilson called on the delegation of Irish Americans, whom he discussed the aspirations of Ireland at the peace conference.

STATE HIGHWAY DEBT URGED IN LEGISLATURE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, March 5.—Opposition to the bill by Senator Roy P. Wilcox to give the industrial commission supervision of legal machinery which would fix the minimum wage for men, on the minimum wage plan as the minimum wage for women is now established, developed at the hearing before the senate reconstruction committee Tuesday afternoon. J. W. Wilson, president of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, made the principal argument against the measure.

J. A. Cannon, secretary of the Wisconsin Good Roads association, and E. B. Canning, chairman of the reconstruction committee to urge favorable action upon Senator Wilcox's joint resolution providing for a constitutional amendment for a $50,000,000 state debt for highway purposes.

"The federal government has just appropriated $5,000,000 for use in improving Wisconsin's highways," said Cannon, "and the state must meet the cost of this appropriation. The state has found itself unable to meet the demands for roadbuilding by taxes. The state has been passing the buck to the counties."

Senator Louis Arnold suggested that the highway item be included in his resolution for an unlimited state debt, but Senator Wilcox said he believed that his own resolution would be more sure of adoption.

Departure Is Marked Contrast to Nasty Demonstration of First Voyage: Harbor Deserted Because of Strike

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, March 5.—President Wilson sailed today on his second voyage to France, determined to "come back till it's over, over there," as he said in his letter to the nation last night. The president's departure was marked with a simplicity which contrasted with the noisy demonstration given him when the George Washington carried Mr. Wilson from America to Europe on his first journey last December.

Today there was only a small crowd of persons assembled at the army transport pier. To these the president, in his hand and Mrs. Wilson, waved farewell greetings as the George Washington swung out into the lower Hudson river, while the band on the transport Great Northern, berthed nearby, played the Star Spangled Banner.

Standing on the bridge the president and his wife saw the Stars and Stripes raised on the staff at the stern and heard the booming of the presidential salute of 21 guns. As the transport turned her nose toward the statue of liberty, an escort of destroyers got underway ahead. The harbor was nearly deserted because of the strike of marine workers.

The president and Mrs. Wilson had ascended to the bridge soon after 8 o'clock. Mr. Wilson had been up and about the decks for nearly two hours, having been the first of the presidential party to appear. Most of the others were sleeping when the transport sailed.

Rush Back From Newspapers

Just as the George Washington was about to sail, it was discovered that some one had neglected to bring aboard the morning papers. The lines had been made fast to the gang plank which was about to be lowered, when the papers were ordered, rushing across the plank onto the pier and hurried through the flag decorated archway to the news stand. A few minutes later the vessel's departure.

These newspapers contained the text of the speeches of the president and former President Taft, in support of the league of nations, and the Metro-politan opera house last night.

They also told of the activities of the president on the eve of his departure.

Sleep Was Brief

It was a few minutes before midnight when Mr. Wilson arrived in Hoboken and it was early morning before he reached his stateroom, so that his sleep was only brief.

The president arrived at the Metropolitan opera house at 8:15 o'clock last night. After Mr. Taft and he had spoken, the president asserting that "an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations," Mr. Wilson called on the delegation of Irish Americans, whom he discussed the aspirations of Ireland at the peace conference.

Paris, March 5.—The German cabinet, Monday, meeting with party leader and delegates of shipowners, agreed unanimously, it is understood, that Germany could not submit to a coalition of hostile powers, either in the armistice negotiations or in peace negotiations proper, according to a Zurich dispatch to Le Journal. The government declared that it would decline responsibility for consequences if "the entente tries to speculate on German patience."

Hugo Haase, independent socialist, declared that the German revolution had been smothered since 1917, but that it had not come up to all expectations, according to a dispatch from Basel. He predicted that it would end in a triumph for international socialism.

Philadelphia, March 5.—A statement signed by 300 prominent Jews protesting their objections to the organization of a Jewish state in Palestine as proposed by the Zionist societies in this country and Europe, to be presented to the first of the president's public appearances here last night. Among those whose names are attached to the statement are Henry Morgenthau, former American ambassador to Turkey; Adolph Ochs, David Belasco, E. R. A. New York, Tuesday, March 4.—President Wilson, speaking tonight at the Metropolitan opera house, was cheered for three minutes, while the band played "I Won't Come Back Till It's Over Over There," as he rose to speak.

The first thing that I am going to tell you people on the other side of the water is that an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations. I have had unmistakable intimations of it from all parts of the country, and the voice rings true in every case.

Our nation is fortunate to speak here under the unusual circumstances of this evening. I am happy to associate myself with Mr. Taft in this great cause.

BEARMORE TELLS OF GROUP LEADERSHIP

Methods for applying the group leadership plan to the churches, with a view to reaching the largest number of people, were discussed by Secretary Bearmore of the Y. M. C. A. at a conference of pastors and church leaders, held at the Y. M. C. A. conference closed yesterday afternoon, in order to enable out of town delegates to return to their homes on the evening train.

One minister, regardless of his individual vision, can not reach his congregation as he should," Secretary Bearmore said. "The Y. M. C. A. has proved the efficacy of group leadership, and it seems that the method should be applied to the church. If the ministers would select a certain number of leaders, give them special training and put them into the spirit of service, the work of the church would be more successful. Christ had his disciples, whom he sent out to spread the doctrine of Christianity. This proposal is similar."

Clarence Artman, Madison, county secretary, gave a short talk before adjournment.

SUPERVISORS FAVOR SALE PAVILION AT LOCAL FAIR GROUNDS

Sentiment favoring the establishment of a centrally located stock pavilion in the county in which sales might be conducted by various breeders' associations prevails among a number of the supervisors of the county. The local fair grounds has been suggested as the best possible place for the location of such a building.

Supervisors W. S. Ferrigo, D. A. McCarthy, J. A. Denning and several others stated yesterday that they thought such results could be accomplished were such a pavilion available. Mr. Ferrigo cited several other Wisconsin counties which have held semi-annual and annual sales more often.

He has had personal experience with sales held in large stock pavilions, and says the establishment of such a place here would be a big thing for Rock county. He recently shipped some stock to a sale held in the big pavilion at Lake Mills.

It was pointed out that Rock county's pure bred Shorthorn, Guernsey, and Holstein cattle and Duroc, Chester White and Poland China hogs, are becoming famous throughout the west and that the sale of the pure bred stock could be obtained for staging big sales of these pure breeds, buyers from all over the country would come to attend them and record prices would result.

Although the big sale of Durocs held at the fair grounds a few weeks ago by E. H. Parker and the sale of Chester Whites at Evansville, recently were both big successes, the fact was fully demonstrated that larger quarters would increase the attendance and thus boost prices. At the same time Rock county's pure breeds would be shipped to all parts of the country and the county would soon become widely known as a place to buy pure bred stock.

The Guernsey breeders are discussing plans for a sale, the Duroc men may stage one, while the Shorthorn breeders at their meeting Friday afternoon will probably consider the subvention of holding a public sale. Other breeders of pure breeds would doubtless fall in line and hold sales if a suitable pavilion could be secured.

If twenty modern houses were available this afternoon, they could be rented before you sat down at dinner tonight.

75 PER CENT OF U. S. MEN PLACED IN JOBS

More than seventy-five percent of the returning soldiers and sailors who need assistance in finding employment are being placed in jobs through the United States Employment Bureau, Superintendent Fred J. Schmidt, announced today.

The Employment Service is finding that of those weekly discharged from the army, 30 percent must find new work, and that 20 percent of the total are being placed in employment through the Federal Employment service or co-operating welfare and civic organizations. The placement figures are based only upon the reports of men known to have been placed and it is estimated that at least 5 percent more are being helped to jobs through the Employment service. There is a much higher percentage of men needing new jobs among the soldiers from the industrial centers than from the agricultural districts.

The Employment service conducts preliminary soldiers' placement work through offices and agents at demobilization camps.

Special Suggestions for The Care of the Skin

If Your Face or Hands Are Roughed or Chapped or Have a Tendency to Eczema, Try These Suggestions.

BENETOL is the most powerful, harmless germicide known in all the medical world. Not only is Benetol a marvelous preparation because of its germicidal powers but it deserves equal fame as a healing agent. Because of these two properties, Benetol is sold in various convenient forms. Among these is to be particularly recommended Benetol Ointment and Benetol Powder.

Both of these preparations are of course intended for skin troubles and to preserve the hands, face and body in the most perfect possible condition of skin health.

With women, this question of skin health is one of the most important of toilet problems. So many cold creams and lotions are found irritating to sensitive skins, that Benetol Ointment is proving a most welcome substitute. In fact, Benetol Ointment, because of its peculiar instant healing properties is being used by a small army of women in preference to cold creams.

As a curative agent for pimples, eczema, roughness, chaps, sunburn and other skin troubles, Benetol Ointment is so far ahead of any other cream or ointment that there is really no comparison to be made.

And Benetol Powder is in fact the only healing, curative, antiseptic powder that is offered (so far as we know).

Both the Ointment and the powder contain the active principles of BENETOL. This is the secret of their wonderful properties and explains why they are not to be compared with any other ointments or powders on the market—because none other contains BENETOL.

If you have any skin troubles try these preparations and if after one week you have not found them many times better than anything else you ever used, take the remaining part of the packages back to your druggist and get your money back in full.

Benetol products are sold by all druggists. If you experience any difficulty in procuring your Benetol wants, simply enclose the price and write direct to

THE ROAD BOND ISSUE.

The county board of supervisors should be complimented upon the progressiveness shown in taking quick action to get the proposition of bonding the county for good roads before the people. It is the first and important step in a future of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the next quarter of a century.

The matter will be put up to the voters at the April election and it is safe to predict that it will be carried with little opposition.

County Highway Commissioner
Moore in his address before the board very clearly presented the merits of the plan. He showed that by building for the future we would do away with waste which has cost many dollars in the past. No one can argue that a concrete highway, connecting principal markets of a community and then extending farther to great trade centers will not be a great benefit to the public.

The development of motor trucks
during the war has shown the necessity for good roads. Without them
we would not have been able to whip Germany. It is a foregone conclusion that the advances which have been made along this line of transportation will not be checked in the future. It will grow as facilities for increasing the successful handling of overland traffic are provided.

Farmers, who a few years ago depend upon slow, horse-drawn vehicles to get their products to markets, are not going to be satisfied to continue to use antiquated methods.
They cannot afford to do so. It is just as necessary for the farmer to conserve time as it is for the manufacturer. The man who is a part of the great development which business is undergoing. He cannot keep pace with modern progress if he is handicapped by poor roads. It does not matter how much labor-saving machinery he has on his farm or how great crops he raises, if he cannot get his crops to market without expense and labor, he is competing with those who have the proper facilities. His neighbors in surrounding counties are planning for permanent good roads and therefore those neighbors will become competitors who must be reckoned with.

Forgetting for a moment the advantages of quicker transportation, consider the road repairs which will be saved in road repairs when a concrete highway system is built. Many of the highways of Rock county will have to be re-surfaced this year. It will cost on the average of $4,000 per mile, according to estimates made by Commissioner Moore. At the end of a few years, these roads would be in just as bad condition as they are now.

Some of those who will argue that unless they live on the proposed state highways, they will not be benefited. This argument will not hold.
Once this system of concrete highways is complete, those other roads will be relieved of heavy traffic and the upkeep of them will be lessened. Also those who live off the main traveled highways and have to use good roads
as we now have, will be able to reach their markets much more conveniently. A concrete road can be reached by them.

The voters will have the opportunity to make possible the bond issue the first Tuesday in April. Plans for the work can then be submitted to the proper authorities and construction of those roads which need attention can be started within a few months. Delay will prove an expensive burden on the taxpayers.

TOBACCO PRICES.

Retail tobacco dealers are confronted with a problem which is hard to understand. They have been warned by the government that only the actual increased tax shall be added to the prices of cigarettes and cigars.
That is fair enough. But coming right on the heels of the increased revenue tax, manufacturers have raised the prices without explanation
to the retailers.

Here a few days ago the tobacco growers were told by buyers that the prices for tobacco would have to be reduced because the demand was not as great as the supply.

It would appear that someone is inconsistent. The retailer complains helpless, if the manufacturer boosts
his prices, the consumer cannot expect the retailer to sell at a loss, and if the statement of the buyers is correct, someone is charging more than he should. Labor is not any higher than it was during the war. The stocks of tobacco which are bought by the retailer should not be any higher than they were during the war.
If the statement of the tobacco men
be taken as correct.

It is an attempt on the part of the manufacturer to take advantage of the increased tax as an excuse to tilt the price and squeeze a few more cents from the public, the government should make an investigation.

The local retailers have been fair,
many of them taking in exceedingly small profits rather than putting the prices so high that they would drive their patrons away. They carried out the government's instructions
when the additional tax was levied and charged one cent more on cigars
and two cents additional on cigarettes
until the manufacturer notified them that the prices had been raised.

There is no law which can prevent the retailer from selling his goods at a fair profit. Such a law is not necessary. There is a law which provides against profiteering and if the manufacturers are guilty they are the ones who should be checked up and not the small dealer who has to make a great many daily sales to make his living.

HOMES NEEDED!

Immediate steps must be taken to provide homes for those families that have come to this city within the last few weeks. If some arrangements are not made to properly house them,
they are going to leave.

Those who have vacant property
and the means to build houses to rent should break ground as soon as the snow is off. Plans for houses should be prepared now.

To those who have their homes and are enjoying their comforts do not appreciate what it means for men and his wife and perhaps children to come here and after weeks of living in rooms or at a hotel, become discouraged and either give up his job or send his family away until a home can be had for them. Some have had to do this.

If twenty houses, modern and reasonable in rental price were available,
it is safe to say that they would be snapped up by desirable tenants before long.

The Janesville Housing corporation
will take care of the workingmen who will be brought here as soon as the Samson Tractor company is ready for them. But individuals are not barred from erecting houses for those who are now on the ground.

Many men who have been employed in the office of the Samson company,
as well as others who have come here because Janesville offers splendid opportunities, MUST have decent places to live. They are men who earn good salaries and are willing to pay a part of it for rent if they are assured of a comfortable place for their family.

As an investment, home building
right now in Janesville is most promising, according to those who have had experience in that line. Many are going to build, in fact have made tentative plans, but it is imperative that actual work be started at once.

If the city administration wishes to make friends with those who have to get up in the mornings and go to work at an early hour, it should provide for cleaning away of the sidewalks as soon as possible as it falls. A man or woman who has to plow through snow a foot deep before reaching their places of employment are not in good humor. In most cities the street commissioners have plows in each ward and gangs of men are set to work removing the snow as soon as possible.

One of the good results of congress adjourning without disposing of measures of importance was allowing the daylight saving bill to stand as it is. The clocks will be set ahead one hour on the last Sunday of this month and the men and women who have to work for a living will be given an opportunity to spend more time in recreation.

Women have taken the places of men during the last year and proved successful. They have been ambitious and their ambitions have been realized in most cases. But the young woman who tole her automobiles since last October has won the prize. However, her reward will be different.

Gov. Edge of New Jersey will not win popularity by attacking the policy of the government in trying to aid the people. The people responded to the call of the government when it was most needed and should be considered now when they need help.

Members of the National Woman's party who staged the fight with the policemen in front of the Metropolitan opera house, New York, should feel satisfied. They determined to get into jail—and they did.

THEIR OPINIONS

Business Prospects.
There is a growing feeling that an accounting doctor will find a line of suffering humanity in his waiting room after July 1st.—Marquette Eagle Star.

Might Contaminate Crooks.
What should be done with people who willfully make a false income tax return? Well, there are a lot of crooks in the jails who would enjoy their society, and feel they had much to learn from their bluff at respectability.—Manitowish Herald-News.

Be Safe.
When an agitator tries to start something, labor will do well to discover on which side of the Atlantic he was born.—Sheboygan Press.

This Helps Girls!
Hurrah, girls! Hurrah! The French marriage laws requiring the presentation of baptismal certificates as an essential preliminary has prevented
the marriage of five thousand American soldiers to French girls.—Wau-saw Record-Herald.

Bright Future.
From indications that may be apparent only to publishers the business outlook is better than it appears.
While showing a tendency to exaggerate present dullness,
many business men are already looking ahead to better times and making plans accordingly.—Appleton Post.

We Should Be Thankful.
There may be a lot of kicking on the payment of income tax, and certainly individuals who had not been obliged to pay a tax of this kind before. However, we ought to be thankful that it isn't any worse than it is.
If the war had cost the United States one dollar for every man, woman and child, as it did Great Britain, every American citizen having an income of $2,400 per year would be paying a tax of $1,000.—Antigo Journal.

Appleton Backs League.
Appleton, March 5.—According to the resolution adopted by the Wisconsin State assembly in which the League of Nations was endorsed and in which Senators La Follette and Lenroot were urged to give it "friendly consideration," 2,500 Appleton people at a great mass meeting at Lawrence Memorial chapel, adopted a similar resolution following an address by Dr. D. O. Kinsman, Lawrence college.

Many men and women in Janesville have tramped the streets for days, endeavoring to find suitable homes. Those who have lots can realize on them by erecting houses.

NAMES AND FACES

I do not ask a store of wealth
Nor special gift of power;
I hope always for strength and health
To brave each troubled hour.
But life would be distinctly good
However low my place,
Had I memory that could Remember names and faces.

I am not troubled by the fact
That common skill is mine;
I care not that my life has lacked
The glory of the line,
But, oh, when someone speaks to me,
My cheeks grow red with shame
Because I'm sure that he must see
That I have lost his name.

Embarrassment, when'er I go,
Pursues me, night and day;
I hear some good friend's glad Hello!

An stop a word to say,
His voice melodiously may ring,
But that's all lost on me;
For all the time I'm wondering Whoever can it be.

I envy no man's talent rare
Save his who can remember
The names of men, no matter where
It is his chance to meet.
For he escapes the bitter blow
The sorrow and regret,
Of greeting friends he has not to know
As though they'd never met.

I do not ask a store of gold,
Nor high station, or of fame;
I have no burning wish to hold
The popular acclaim;
Life's lanes I'd gladly journey
Through,

Nor mind the stony places,
Could I, but do as others do,
And know men's names and faces!

WHO'S WHO
in the Daily News

MRS. NORMAN DE R. WHITE-

HOUSE.
Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse,
who was sent to Switzerland in December, 1917, on a war mission, has returned to this country to make an annual report to the government.

She conducted a campaign under the direction of the committee on public information
to place
America's aims
in the war before
the people of the central powers.

Mrs. Whitehouse formerly was chairman of the state suffrage
party and for two years chairman of the state
publicity committee and was succeeded because of her success in these offices. She had a staff of assistants and $15,000
allowance for her work at the start. The appointment was made by George Creel, who outlined the duties for which she was entrusted.

Mrs. Whitehouse left this country on Jan. 7, 1918. Owing to some hitch in the campaign which she had prepared, she returned last April, remaining until May in Washington, where she conferred with government officials.

WEIGLE NOW PIERCES
"SUB-NOT" BALLOON

Madison, March 5.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner George J. Weigle
today issued a statement condemning
"sub-not" which he characterizes as
"another contemptible fraud foisted upon the people of Wisconsin."

"Sub-not," a so-called fuel saver,
now being sold on the market at $1 per pound, is in reality 80 per cent
common salt, sold under a fancy name to an unsuspecting and patriotic public," declared Commissioner Weigle
today.

"The directions furnished with the one pound package of Sub-not state that this is enough to treat two tons of coal at a cost of $1," said Commissioner Weigle. "The reading matter on the package states that Sub-not makes soft coal burn like hard coal, that fuel is saved, that soot and smoke are prevented, all of which statements are false."

Mr. Weigle, who exposed the egg substitute fraud during the early winter, feels that he has pierced another hoax and has brought to light a few cold facts concerning one of the biggest frauds perpetrated on the public.

VICTORY GARDEN FOR EVERY FAMILY, CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

Preliminary steps in a strong campaign to increase the number of gardens in the city this summer, similar to the campaign of last year, are being taken by the Chamber of Commerce, through its garden committee. A large amount of literature from the National War Garden commission has been received from Washington, and is being prepared for distribution by L. W. Parkin, assistant secretary.

Prizes for the best gardens were awarded last year, and some similar plan will probably be followed this season.

"France and Belgium will depend upon America for a large amount of their foodstuffs this year, one of the pamphlets states. The most valuable vegetable for home consumption, thus freeing the market for foreign trade. Only by sending foodstuffs to Europe can the spread of anarchy be prevented."

"The war garden of 1918 must become the victory garden of 1919. Is it worth trying to reach the goal of 10,000,000 victory gardens? It can't be done? Let's do it!"

COCIVERA ON TRIAL FOR BELOIT MURDER

tered his larynx, and splintered his spinal cord, they testified. Dr. Guy C. Vanne, this city, also called to the stand to give testimony. He told of the paralytic effect such a wound would have on a man.

"Yes, there are a lot of crimes laid to the Black Hand organization which should not be," Dan Torrisi admitted after he had again been placed on the stand. "There are quite a few cases too, where one man threatens another man's life and we don't pay an attention to it."

Detective in Black Hand
Asked if he was ever a member of the Black Hand organization, he replied that he joined at one time to find out the workings of the band. He discovered that the purpose of the club was to extract money from the form of taxes from rich Italian merchants.

"I think Cocivera also belonged at one time," he said.

Through Torrisi's testimony, Dist. Atty. Edgar brought out the fact that Cocivera kept a revolver in his shoemaking shop and that he sometimes carried it in his hip pocket. He said he had never seen him with it outside the shop, but he had warned him not to carry it.

Chief Quailman testified he thought the five shots he heard when he was in the room, came from the scene of the murder. He said he saw Cocivera, who he thought they did come in rapid succession.

Death Came Suddenly
"When I came to the body," he stated, "bubbles of blood were oozing out of the man's mouth. Someone remarked 'He's alive,' so I turned him over on the side to see. He was dead. To my knowledge, no one else touched the body."

"I never had much trouble with Cocivera," he admitted when cross examined by Mr. Dunwiddie.

Atty. Edgar brought in-law of the cobbler, testified having found Cocivera's revolver on his bureau in his bedroom after the shooting fray. He said it had been there for a month or more, and that he thought it was the only gun the shoemaker possessed.

grocery store, was to be the first witness to be examined this afternoon. It is probable that the case will be heard some time tomorrow and the defense will then present its testimony. It is hoped to complete the case sometime Friday.

FARMERS URGED TO CUT WOOD FOR FUEL

"Farmers should make arrangements to cut wood immediately," H. M. Hanson, county fuel administrator stated today. "Thousands of tons of wood are being cut and piled up in the woods, and the fuel situation is so questionable that a large supply of wood is the only sure prevention of shortage."

The scarcity of wood and the growth of oak and hickory that makes admirable fuel," he said. Several farmers have already started work this winter. J. E. Stevens has had a force of men cutting wood near Beloit for some time. Little of the wood goes to town consumers, although there would undoubtedly be a market for it.

A committee headed by Mr. Hanson, county fuel administrator, is urging farmers to cut wood for fuel conservation.

"When the pressure of war was upon us, we had the immediate necessity to give coal and the immediate danger of a serious fuel shortage in Wisconsin. We must now relax our efforts to keep an adequate fuel supply for Wisconsin, to make our state as nearly independent of other communities in the basic necessities of life, as possible. The importance of these necessities. Domestic consumers of state have been dependent largely upon anthracite."

Authorities on the coal situation know that the amount of anthracite will be an ever decreasing quantity at an ever increasing price. We are facing the problem of fuel conservation. Not only is this supply of fuel wood, properly husbanded, adequate for many of our needs, but it is the only way to realize how fortunate we are in having one available."

George Kikta got drunk last evening and started a family row. He went as far as to bite his wife's finger. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail by Judge Maxfield in the municipal court this morning.

Kikta, when arraigned, asserted that he was unable to understand English, but this difficulty was soon remedied when his son, who appeared to offer testimony against his father, acted as interpreter.

His son told the court that he was released from the army on December 18 and since that time he has only known of his father to be sober six days. He also claimed that his father had the habit of getting drunk and starting a home row.

Frank McCarthy, who has been in court before, was again on deck this morning and he received anything but a warm welcome from the judge. His Love Story
MARIE VAN VOIRST

"There are all kinds, ma chere, as there are all temperaments," said Madame de la Maine. "At Assumption—that is our great feast, Julia—the Feast of Mary—it comes in August—at Assumption, Monsieur de la Maine came to talk with my grandmother. He was forty years old, and bald—Bob and I made fun of his few hairs, like the children in the Holy Bible."

Julia put out her hand and took the hand of Madame de la Maine gently. She was getting so far from a love affair.

"I married Monsieur de la Maine in six weeks," said Therese.

"Oh," breathed Miss Redmond, "horrible!"

Madame de la Maine pressed Julia's hand.

"When it was decided between my grandmother and the comte, I escaped at night, after they thought I had gone to bed, and I went down to the lower terrace where the weeds grew in plenty, and told Robert. Somehow, I did not expect him to make fun, although we always joked about everything until this night. It was after nine o'clock."

The comtesse swept one hand toward the desert. "A moon like this—only not like this—ma chere. There was never but that moon to me for many years."

"I thought at first that Bob would kill me—he grew so white and terrible. He seemed suddenly to have aged ten years. I will never forget his cry as it rang out in the night. 'You will marry that old man when we love each other?' I had never known it until then."

"We were only children, but he grew suddenly old. I knew it then," said Madame de la Maine intensely. "I knew it then."

She waited for a long time. Over the face of the desert there seemed to be nothing but one veil of light. The silence grew so intense, so deep; the Arabs had stopped singing, but the heart fairly echoed, and Julia grew meditative—before her eyes the caravans...

van she waited for seemed to come out of the moonlit mist, rocking, rocking—the camels and the huddled figures of the riders, their shadows cast upon the sand.

And now Tremont would be forever changed in her mind. A man who had suffered from his youth, a warm-hearted boy, defrauded of his early love. It seemed to her that he was a charming figure to lead Sabron.

"Therese," she murmured, "won't you tell me?"

"They thought I had gone to bed," said the Comtesse de la Maine. "and I went back to my room by a little staircase, seldom used, and I found myself alone, and I knew what life was and what it meant to be poor."

"But," interrupted Julia, horrified, "girls are not sold in the twentieth century."

"They are sometimes in France, my dear. Robert was only seventeen. His father laughed at him, threatened to send him to South America. We were victims."

"It was the harvest moon," continued Madame de la Maine gently, "and it shone on us every night until my wedding day. Then the duke kept his threat and sent Robert out of France. He continued his studies in England and went into the army of Africa."

There was a silence again.

"I did not see him until last year," said Madame de la Maine, "after my husband died."

CHAPTER XXIV.
The Meeting.
Under the sun, under the starry nights Tremont, with his burden, journeyed toward the north. The balls were distasteful to him, and although he was forced to rest he would rather have been cursed with sleeplessness and have journeyed on and on. He rode like a Bedouin; he grew brown like the Bedouins and under the hot breezes, swaying on his desert ship, he sank into dreamy, moody and melancholy reveries, like the wandering men of the Sahara, and felt himself part of the desolation, as they were.

"What will be, will be!" Hammet Abou said to him a hundred times, and Tremont wondered: "Will Charles live to see Algiers?"

Sabron journeyed in a litter carried between six mules, and they traveled slowly. Tremont rode by the sick man's side day after day. Not once did the soldier for any length of time regain his reason. He would pass from coma to delirium, and many times Tremont thought he had ceased to breathe. Slender, emaciated under his covers, Sabron lay like the image of a soldier in wax—a wounded man carried as a votive offering to the altars of desert warfare.

At night as he lay in his bed in his tent, Tremont and Hammet Abou cooled his temples with water from the earthen bottles, where the sweet ooze stood out humid and refreshing on the damp clay. They gave him acid and cooling drinks, and now and then Sabron would smile on Tremont, calling him "petit frere," and Tremont heard the words with moisture in his eyes, remembering what he had said to the Marquise d'Esclignac about being Sabron's brother. Once or twice the soldier murmured a woman's name, but Tremont could not catch it, and once he said to the duke:

"Slug! Sing!"

The Frenchman obeyed docilely, humming in an agreeable baritone the snatches of song he could remember, "La Fille de Madame Angot," "Il Trovatore," running them into more modern opera, "La Veuve Joyeuse." But the lines creased in Sabron's forehead indicated that the singer had not yet found the music which haunted the memory of the sick man.

"Sing!" he would repeat, fixing his hollow eyes on his companion, and Tremont complied faithfully. Finally, his own thoughts going back to early days, he hummed tunes that he and a certain little girl had sung at their games in the allees of an old chateau in the valley of the Indre.

"Sonnez les matines Ding-din-don,"

and other children's melodies.

In those nights, on that desolate way, alone, in a traveling tent, at the side of a man he scarcely knew, Robert de Tremont learned serious lessons. He had been a soldier himself, but his life had been an inconsequent one. He had lived as he liked, behind him always the bitterness of an early deception. But he had been too young to break his heart at seventeen. He had lived through much since the day his father exiled him to Africa.

Therese had become a dream, a memory around which he did not always let his thoughts linger. When he had seen her again after her husband's death and found her free, he was already absorbed in the worldly life of an ambitious young man. He had not known how much he loved her until in the Villa des Bougainvilles he had seen and contrasted her with Julia Redmond.

All the charm for him of the past returned, and he realized that, as money goes, he was poor—she was poorer.

The difficulties of the marriage made him all the more secure in his determination that nothing should separate him again from this woman.

By Sabron's bed he hummed his little insignificant tunes, and his heart longed for the woman. When once or twice on the return journey they had been threatened by the engulfing sand storm he had prayed not to die before he could again clasp her in his arms.

Sweet, tantalizing, exquisite with the passion of young love, there came to him the memories of the moonlight nights on the terrace of the old chateau. He saw her in the pretty girlish dresses of long ago, the melancholy droop of her quivering mouth, her bare young arms, and smelled the fragrance of her hair as he kissed her. So humming his soothing melodies to the sick man, with his voice softened by his memories, he soothed Sabron.

Sabron closed his eyes, the creases in his forehead disappeared as though brushed away by a tender hand. Perhaps the sleep was due to the fact that, unconsciously, Tremont slipped into humming a tune which Miss Redmond had sung in the Villa des Bougainvilles, and of whose English words De Tremont was quite ignorant.

"Will he last until Algiers, Hammet Abou?"

"What will be will be, monsieur!" Abou replied.

"He must," De Tremont answered fiercely. "He shall."

He became serious and meditative on those silent days, and his blue eyes, where the very whites were burned, began to wear the far-away, mysterious look of the traveler across long distances. During the last sand storm he stood, with the camels, round Sabron's litter, a human shade and shield, and when the storm ceased he felt like one dead, and the Arabs pulled off his boots and put him to bed like a child.

One sundown, as they traveled into the afterglow with the East behind them, when Tremont thought he could not endure another day of the voyage, when the pallor and waxiness

"Den, honey, you ken ask him."

Mayor Hyland of New York said at a recent luncheon:

"The story about Germany being well nourished now is as credible as the story of the Scotch restaurant."

"A Scotchman dined in a Broadway restaurant and was disgusted when the waiter brought him a bill for $3.75."

"Mon, mon," said the Scotchman, "I could get a better dinner nor that in Scotland for a shillin'."

"Ah, come off," said the waiter. "What would they give you for a shillin'?"

"Mon," said the Scot, "they'd give me soup, fish, roast beef, chicken, ice cream, fruit, cheese, coffee and a cigar."

"My goodness," said the waiter, "that's a bargain! Whereabouts in Scotland is it?"

"I don't know, mon," said the Scot, "but ain't it awful cheap?"

Sensible Treatment For Rheumatism

Drives Out the Millions of Tiny Pain Demons That Cause the Disease.

There are many ways of treating Rheumatism, but there is only one right way.

If you are beginning to feel the first slight touches of Rheumatism, there is untold pain and suffering ahead of you, if you follow blindly in the same misdirected foot-steps of unintelligent treatment. For remember that thousands of victims of this painful disease have spent countless hours, no doubt, as well as their hard-earned dollars in a vain effort to find a cure. And your own experience will be just as disappointing as theirs, if you follow the old, worn-out and worthless methods of treatment.

When you realize that you must get rid of the cause of Rheumatism, and that its torturing pains will disappear when their cause is removed, then you will be on the right track, and there is a splendid chance for you to rid yourself of the disease.

The most common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood.

This is why S. S. S., the greatest known blood purifier, is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, it promptly routs all disease germs. S. S. S. has been used for more than half a century, and it will prove beneficial in any case of Rheumatism.

If you are a victim of this disease, why waste further time with the wrong kind of treatment? Go to your drug-gist to-day and get a bottle of S. S. S., and begin a course of treatment that will delight you with its results. S. S. S. will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

We maintain a medical department in charge of a specialist on Rheumatism, and after beginning treatment with S. S. S. you are invited to write for free medical advice about your own case. Address: Chief Medical Adviser, 104 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(A-14)

Reduce Weight

If you wish to reduce steadily, yet eat as much as you please, take a small box of oil of korein at the drug-gist's. Follow the directions. Absolutely safe, guaranteed method of becoming slim, no starvation; you become slender gracefully, vividly, mentally and physically alert—no "dieting." Reduction guaranteed to 25 to 50 pounds or no cost to you!

DRUGGISTS! VICK'S VAPORUB SHORTAGE OVERCOME AT LAST

The Deal Scheduled For Last November, Which Was Postponed on Account of the Influenza Epidemic, Is Now Re-instated—Good During the Month of March.

OVER ONE MILLION JARS OF VAPORUB PRODUCED EACH WEEK.

It is with pride that we announce to the drug trade that the shortage of Vick's Vaporub, which has lasted since last October, is now overcome. Since January 1st we have been running our laboratory at twenty-three and a half hours out of every twenty-four. Last week we shipped the last of our back orders, and retail druggists, therefore, are no longer requested to order in small quantities only.

NOVEMBER DEAL RE-INSTATED.
This deal, which we had expected to put into last November and which had to be postponed on account of the shortage of Vaporub, is re-instated for the month of March. This allows a discount of 15% on shipments from jobbers' stock of quantities of from 1 to 4 gross. 5% of this discount is allowed by the jobber and 5% by us.

We advise the retail druggists to place their orders immediately, so that the jobbers will be able to get prompt shipments to them.

THANKS TO THE PUBLIC DUE THE DRUG TRADE DURING THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.
The thanks of the American public are certainly due the entire drug trade—retail, wholesale and manufacturer—for what they accomplished during the recent influenza epidemic. The war caused a shortage of physical claims—nurses were almost impossible to obtain—the demand on the drug trade was unexpected and overwhelming, and to this demand they responded nobly. Retail druggists kept open day and night and slept where they dropped behind the prescription counter. Wholesale druggists called their salesmen off the road to help fill orders. Hundreds were wired up to ship Vick's Vaporub by the quickest route, regardless of expense.

Constipation turns the tide of the invisible conflict against the body, in favor of the invaders. Nor does the taking of castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., to force the bowels to move enable the body to defend itself. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies but the dose must be constantly increased with an ever-weakening effect.

On the other hand Nujol overcomes constipation and brings about the habit of easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals, because Nujol is not a drug, does not act like any drug. Nujol brings about a return to Nature's methods by supplying necessary lubrication of the bowel contents, by facilitating intestinal muscular action, by absorbing poisonous matter, and thus securing necessary cleansing of the intestinal canal and protection of the defensive properties of the blood itself.

Get a bottle of Nujol from your drug-gist today and send coupon for free booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger."

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

HIGH SCHOOL HOPES TO TAKE HONORS AT WHITEWATER TOURNAMENT

Janesville high school's speedy "varsity" basketball team will invade Whitewater tomorrow with one ambition and that is to cop off honors in the inter-high school tournament to be staged there Thursday, Friday and Saturday. If the basketballers cop their first game, and all hope says they should, then they will battle for a place in the first division.

For the past few days the team has been practicing double time. The girls' basketball games scheduled for after school have been postponed and the floor given over to the men. Basket shooting has been given special attention by Coach Crabtree, while pushing has also come in for consideration.

Besides Janesville it is expected that the following teams will enter: Jefferson, Janesville, Port Atkinson, Delavan, Whitewater, Beloit, Stoughton, University High and Madison High, making this meeting one of the strongest bunches of high school teams ever lined up.

If the blue tossers are successful they will be eligible to enter the state tournament at Appleton next month. While the Janesville bunch have played good ball on their own court their playing out of town has been weak; in fact all of the defeats have been suffered out of the city. The large size of the Normal gym at Whitewater is also likely to prove a handicap.

To offset these handicaps they have shown remarkable speed and a couple of the best basket-shooters in this section. Captain Sprackling has developed into a wonder and in each instance this season has shown himself to be a star. Fond du Lac, also, has some good players. During the games he has participated in, with one exception, he has scored several times. Nuzum, holding down one of the forward jobs with Sprackling, has not shown up well on the baskets, but is clever on his feet and could be easily shifted to a guard position in an emergency. Powers, while light, is "pappy" player and his worth has been evidenced throughout the year, especially during the past few weeks. Fisher, his mate, is also small and light, but proves an ideal guard with Powers. Allen and Hager, while appearing nightly for practice, have not broken into the limelight as yet, but according to Coach Crabtree they will probably be given a chance at the tournament.

A number of high school students will accompany the squad to Whitewater for the first game, but the larger portion will doubtless go Friday. It is expected that the school cheer leaders will be on hand.

CADILLAC FIVE WINS HOT BOWLING RACE

With several cylinders missing, the Cadillac five roared away from Kemmerer's Colts and won by a 103-pin margin at the West Side bowling alleys last night. The auto five copped the first two heats by comfortable margins but allowed the Colts to slip under the wire ahead in the third heat. Cook was the main cog in the winning machine laying away 210 wooden men in the first frame. The scores:

CADILLAC FIVE—
Cook	210	131	147

LOCAL FIVE LOSES HARD FOUGHT GAME TO BELOIT FAIRIES

In one of the hardest fought games before the largest crowd that ever entered the Beloit College gym, the Lakota Cardinals went down to defeat at the hands of the Beloit Fairies last evening by the score of 14 to 25.

Never in the history of the game in southern Wisconsin has such a crowd been on hand to witness the fray, say the fans. Fully one hour before the contest was called the large building was filled to capacity and many rabid fans were outside begging for admission.

Fighting to the last ditch, not giving an inch and demanding basket for basket the Cardinals lost one of the toughest games of the season. It was nobody's game up till the last minute of play.

Staging their usual second half comeback after trailing in the first half by a 10 to 2 count, the Cardinals threw a score into the Beloit team which nearly caused the breaking up of the Gateway City five. Securing three baskets in five minutes in the middle of the second half the Cardinals started with a spurt with which they intended to cop the game, but hard luck combined with the playing of Sachs, the Beloit guard, stopped the spurt and returned the Fairies winners.

Over 200 loyal followers of the Cardinals made the trip to Beloit, accompanied by the Bower City band.

Never before have basketball fans witnessed such an exhibition as was presented by Rolfe Williams, former guard of the Great Lakes team. Williams continually carried the ball through the entire Beloit team only to lose it on a pass.

Karst, Fond du Lac, playing forward for Janesville, also played a strong game and in the last half secured four chugers. It was the combined work of Karst and Williams that kept the Janesville team in the fight.

Vic Hemming at center was in his usual form and secured Janesville's three points in the first half. Vic secured first blood on a free throw shortly after the game was started and just before the whistle blew term, in the initial period Hemming landed a field goal from the side lines.

Phelps and Casserly, Madison, assisted by Kibo Brumm nearly spelled defeat for the Fairies during the last half and although unable to score, due to the close guarding of Beloit, Phelps carried the ball down the floor several times.

Casserly, playing guard opposite Williams, made an ideal punting mate for the gob star and the Beloit quintet was baffled many times by the clever work of the guards.

Kibo Brumm went in the game during the second period and played his usual fast game.

"Soup" Murphy, Beloit, played in the stellar role for the winners and during the game caged 4 baskets. Jess Dixon, the former I. C. star, was unable to get going last evening owing to the work of the Cardinal guard and secured only two ringers during the game.

Sachs, Beloit guard and a former member of the I. A. C. was in the game at all times. He without a doubt was the main cog in the Fairies machine.

The line up and score follows:

Cardinals 14
Phelps	11	Murphy	3
Karst	11	Dixon	2
Hemming	2	Zabel	1
Williams	13	Sachs	1
Casserly	5	Tilley	0

Summary—Field goals: Karst 2; Murphy 4; Hemming 1; Dixon 2; Tilley 1. Free throws: Hemming missed 4 out of 5; Phelps 2 out of 3.

Referee, Dobson, Beloit.

Attendance 850.

Cause for Thankfulness.

Let us thank kind and pitying heaven for failure, for pain, for long stress and disappointment, for sin and shame and sudden days when it forever brings us at last to beauty.—Exchange.

In a 53-inning game which ended with a 50 to 42 score, Edward Allen defeated George Sprackling for the billiard championship of the Y. M. C. A. at the association building yesterday. He was awarded a pair of gold cuff links as a prize.

Allen has not lost a game since the opening of the tournament. He defeated George Cassidy in a last game last week, which was concluded in 33 innings. He has also won from Richard O'Brien and Chauncey Kilmer.

Appleton Team Stands High

Appleton, March 5.—With ten victories out of eleven games played, the Appleton high school basketball five is the favorite in the normal sectional tournament to be played at Oshkosh, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Every team in the district with the exception of Fond du Lac has lost to the local high or have been defeated by teams which the locals have beaten.

One of the crying needs in Janesville is homes for those who have come here to earn their living. Can't you build one now?

Farmers Demand Agent.

Appleton, March 5.—Outagamie county farmers will insist upon getting an agricultural agent. The battle to make the county board rescind its act of the November 1918 session, whereby the office of county food agent was abolished, will not be ended farmers say, until a county agent has been secured.
